Your opinion	The HK Government needs to take a long term approach to land supply and not take the easy route of eating into the Country Parks for housing. The Country Parks should be protected at all costs so that future generations can enjoy a place to hike and relax in and so escape the hustle and bustle of our congested city.

Your opinion	Population growth will have to slow or stop at some point. There are finite resources on the planet. Choose to slow growth now, not later when all natural assets are gone. Housing expansion is not going to reducing housing problems, just as building roads does not reduce conjestion. They just perpetuate the problem further, while eating away at green space.

Your opinion	強烈要求政府優先收回棕地，有規畫地發展棕地，作興建房屋及其他公共設施、休憩公園等用途，解決現今棕地雜亂無章，環境大量受破壞的景況。在收回的棕地上，可考慮撥出約5 10%的土地，建多層工廠大樓安置現棕地上存在的行業，如回收工場等，令整個土地在未來發展及顧及現存棕地上的行業，取得平衡。棕地問題已存在多年，強烈要求政府正視棕地問題，全力解決，不要再拖延下去。

Your opinion	The housing shortage problem in Hong Kong is apparent and must be addressed and dealt with; but the solution we choose must bear minimal cost on the integrity and sustainability of the environment where possible. The loss of biodiversity in Hong Kong in the past has had serious socioeconomical implications; the conversion of country parks and other green areas for the construction of housings will further damage our natural envrionment, which contradicts the government's continuous effort to promote a healthier and greener lifestyle. I therefore suggest the government should seriously consider developing brown field sites, before turning their attention to greens.

Your opinion	I believe that government inertia, not wanting to deal with the entrenched interests who hold brownfield sites, ought not to be a reason that we irreparably damage the ecology of Hong Kong. When we have large land supplies that won't affect nature in HK, it is imperative they be used first. I urge the government to adopted this 'brownfield first' approach as a matter of conscience and sustainability.

Your opinion	We should not be developing in our country parks. There are plenty of other options to redevelop brownfield sites and disused government buildings, as well as rezoning underused industrial areas, without developing in our "green lungs," the one place in a busy built up world that Hong Kongers can go to escape the city.

Your opinion	Government did not have determination to work against stakeholders who currently is not using our land resource in effective way, like the brown fields and the farm lands which are either wasted, or serve only interest of small group of people. Instead Government always go along routes of least resistance, i.e. country parks, where there is not enough of stakeholder interest to cause trouble to Government. I am very disappointed in Government's complacent attitude, which continuously create more and more mess and untied loose ends, at the expense of our environment. Environment deterioration happens very often irreversibly, trying to develop country park surrounding areas are a sure way to destroy our environment and diversity further. I hope the Government can take bold actions, do the right thing, instead of just go the least resistance route and create further mess. Animals and wildlife cannot petition to the Government, but I want our next generations to be able to continue enjoy country parks and wildlife like I do today.

Your opinion香港貴為蛋丸之地 引致近年加劇的住屋問題根本不是土地問題 而是人口急劇增加的計時炸彈 人口管制才是當局必須要正視的問題 如不再停止每日150個內地輸入的人口及不斷增生的小數族裔問題 問題只會不斷惡化加劇

而人口問題正正就是引伸到現在的土地問題, 亦間接令到 民生, 醫療, 環境及環保 蝴蝶效應 軒連甚廣
